Startup Kits

Startup Kits are ready-to-use display solution packages tailored for new businesses, retail stores, exhibitions, and promotional events. These kits typically include essential branding and display elements such as roll-up standees, acrylic sign holders, poster frames, and tabletop branding tools—everything a startup needs to create a strong visual presence quickly and efficiently.

Acrylic Displays

Acrylic Displays offer a sleek, modern, and durable solution for showcasing products, branding, and information in retail stores, offices, exhibitions, and hospitality spaces. Known for their crystal-clear finish and versatility, acrylic displays come in a variety of forms such as brochure holders, sign holders, product risers, and tabletop displays. They provide a premium look while ensuring easy maintenance and long-lasting clarity.

Promotional Displays

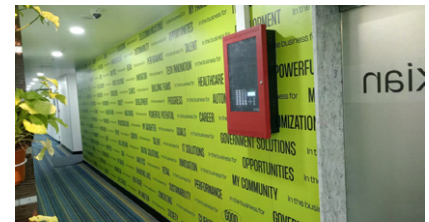

Promotional Displays are dynamic visual tools designed to attract attention, boost product visibility, and drive customer engagement at the point of sale or during events. These displays include standees, banners, counter-top units, floor displays, and more—each crafted to highlight offers, new launches, or brand messages effectively.

Printing

Aida specializes in crafting Braille Signs, ensuring accessibility and inclusivity in various environments. Our Braille signs are meticulously designed and manufactured to meet all relevant accessibility standards, making them suitable for use in public spaces, educational institutions, healthcare facilities, and more.

EHS Safety Sign

EHS Safety Signs (Environment, Health, and Safety) are critical components of any workplace display system, designed to promote awareness, prevent accidents, and ensure compliance with safety regulations. These signs communicate vital information—such as hazards, mandatory precautions, emergency exits, and equipment usage—using universally recognized symbols and clear messaging.

Institutional Sign

Institutional Signs are essential communication tools designed to enhance navigation, safety, and identity within educational, governmental, and healthcare environments. These signs include nameplates, room numbers, wayfinding systems, directional boards, and compliance signage—all crafted to meet specific institutional standards. Durable, clear, and easy to read, institutional signs ensure organized movement, support branding, and create a professional atmosphere across campuses, offices, and public facilities.
